Food Shortage Threat Facing Colombia Now

Inter-American Conference
May Be Moved To Cuba

ARMY SEEKS TO DISTRIBUTE FOOD

(BULLETIN)
LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., April 12.—(INS)—The Colombian delegation to the United Nations announced today that the delegates to the Inter-American conference at Bogota have decided to continue their work.

By JOHN A. REICHMANN
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

BOGOTA, April 12.—The Colombian army took over distribution of milk and meat in Bogota today in an effort to prevent a serious food shortage and make possible continuation of the Inter-American conference.

Delegates to the conference have indicated to the new coalition government that it will have until Tuesday to show that it can provide necessary facilities—including food and protection—to keep the parley in the strife-ridden Colombian capital.

Many hotels have run out of food and others have only a day's supply. Despite the fact that the army has taken over distribution of milk and meat, little seems to be reaching the public. The common people of Bogota are already hungry.

Confusion is still general, and there is widespread belief that only the resignation of President Ospina Perez will bring a return of order.

At least 600 are reported dead, with casualties still occurring.

COLOMBIA SEVERS SOVIET RELATIONS

(BULLETIN)
BOGOTA, April 12.—(INS)—Revolution torn Colombia today severed diplomatic relations with Soviet Russia.

The break in diplomatic relations with Moscow followed the arrest yesterday of two alleged Russian agents in connection with Friday's bloody revolt.

The government radio announced that 15 foreign agents, including two Russians, had been caught in a spy roundup. The announcement said that "some were taken alive," including three foreign agents seized as they attempted to "start trouble."

An official government announcement said that Russian agents—the number was not given—had been arrested in connection with the revolt.

Unconfirmed reports said that two Russians, possessing documents which connected them with the disorders, had been taken into custody.

Individual delegates were unwilling to comment on the alleged part of the Soviets in the uprising.

May Change Site
This lead delegates to agree that to abandon the parley completely would be to indicate defeat by Communist saboteurs.

Discussion on whether to continue the conference in Bogota centered on both the food supply and physical facilities available for a meeting place.

To continue in the ruined capital would be to hold an open-air meeting, for every window is broken, all furniture destroyed, and all equipment demolished.

One suggestion now being discussed is to move the conference to Cuba, where facilities left by the international trade organization meeting are still available.

Shortly after he was sworn in as Administrator for Economic Co-operation, Paul G. Hoffman looks over a globe in Washington. A former automobile company executive, he will be in direct control of America's $6,000,000,000 stop-Communism world aid fund.

House Starts Hearings On Draft Proposals

By WILLIAM THEIS
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, April 12.—Rep. Vinson (D) Ga., congressional leader on naval affairs, declared today that the House bill to restore the draft and boost air power will not "over-balance" the nation's armed forces in any direction.

Vinson predicted approval of the legislation by the House Armed Services committee which opens hearings on the bi-partisan measure today. Vinson, ranking Democrat on the committee, said he strongly favors the 70-group air forces authorized in the bill.

Call First Witness
The House committee called as its first witnesses Defense Secretary Forrestal, Undersecretary of State Lovett, Army Secretary Royall, Navy Secretary Sullivan and Air Secretary Symington. All have recommended universal military training with the draft.

Cold Wave Fails To Hurt Fruit

HARRISBURG, April 12.—(INS)—The Agriculture Department reported today that apples and peaches in Pennsylvania's eastern fruit belt escaped damage during the week-end cold wave.

The department expressed belief that high winds kept air in circulation thus minimizing frost damage.

Orchardists were warned, however, that freezing weather in the future would seriously damage crops.

Peach trees would bloom in Franklin county by mid-week, several weeks ahead of last year, according to the department.

Freezing weather during 1947 forced a 2,000,000-bushel drop below the 1946 yield.

Freezing weather during 1947 nipped the apple crop and resulted in a crop of 6,612,000 last year.

U. S. Planes Are Sent To Bogota

(BULLETIN)
PANAMA, April 12.—(INS)—Three U. S. Army C-54 transport planes took off for Bogota today to evacuate American and other personnel from the Colombian capital. The planes were requested by the U. S. embassy in Bogota.

Two additional supply planes, loaded with canned meats, vegetables, fruit, milk, potatoes and rice in preparation for an early takeoff.

Army headquarters could not say whether these planes would bring back evacuees also.

Secretary of State Marshall's private plane remains in Panama.

Blame Fisherman In Dynamiting Of Dam

(BULLETIN)
ST. CLAIR, Mich., April 12.—(INS)—A 100-year-old dam on the Belle river, near St. Clair, Mich., was seriously damaged by a dynamite time bomb early today.

Michigan state police at St. Clair said they believed the explosion was set off by fishermen who complained the dam hampered fishing operations.

No one was injured in the blast, but windows in nearby homes were broken and telephone poles were splintered.

State police reported the bomb was lowered into the dam and set off by an alarm clock. A detonator was found less than 100 feet from the dam.

The 125-foot-long construction was used by the Belle River mill to generate power for milling corn and oats.

State Police Trooper Kenneth Gray said some unrest was reported recently in the area among fishermen who said the dam kept fish from running up stream.

Police said the explosion was the second attempted to destroy the wall.

London Statue To Roosevelt Is Unveiled Today

By FRED SMITH
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, April 12.—The British have not forgotten Franklin Delano Roosevelt.

Today in London's famed Grosvenor Square they turned out to hear their king pay tribute to the late American president and to watch in respectful silence as Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt unveiled a statue of "FDR".

Thousands in Crowd
Thousands of Britons—from London's irrepressible cockneys to the royal family—jammed Grosvenor Square to watch the ceremony.

Prime Minister Clement Attlee was there. So was Winston Churchill—Roosevelt's close friend and partner in the defeat of the Axis.

The king's brief but heartfelt address, in which he termed the American leader "a great man of peace and a great citizen of the world" brought tears to the eye of many of the onlookers.

The British monarch said: "He was not only a great war leader, he was one of the foremost architects of the common world."

"It is fitting that this statue overlook this square, which was the nerve-center of the prodigious American war effort. Throughout the years to come it will stand as a permanent reminder of our comradeship with the American people."

Renew Our Pledge
The king added:

"As we look at it, we shall renew our pledge to share with that people the ideals of peace, and freedom for which Roosevelt strove with unwritten faith."

"I now ask Mrs. Roosevelt to unveil the monument and in doing so I wish to assure her on behalf of the whole British Commonwealth that they will always regard it as fitting memorial to a great man and great friend."

The impressive ceremonies were opened with a prayer by the archbishop of Canterbury. The king then made his address and invited Mrs. Roosevelt to unveil the 10-foot likeness of FDR, which was covered with a Union Jack.

After the singing of the "Star Spangled Banner", the king and other dignitaries placed wreaths at the foot of the statue.

Kastel Agam Changes Hands

JERUSALEM, April 12.—(INS)—Haganah forces battled their way into Kastel Agam today, marking the sixth time in ten days that the strategic village has changed hands.

An official government announcement confirmed the Jewish seizure of the town where more than 300 Jews and Arabs have been killed in recent days.

In Jerusalem itself, Jews claimed they moved into evacuated Jewish quarters in the suburb of Katamon today after a mortar battle with the Arabs this morning.

A British army patrol was reported to have shot down a Jewish reconnaissance plane after Jews fired on British armored cars in the Hebron area of southern Palestine. No casualties were reported.

Meanwhile, the see-saw battle for strategic Kastel entered its tenth day, with more than 300 Arabs and Jews already victims of the savage fighting.

Final Meeting On Commander's Banquet On Tuesday Evening

Perry S. Gaston Post Members
Will Have Checkup On Ticket
Sales At Legion Home

Commander Joseph Solomon, of the Perry S. Gaston Post, American Legion, today announced a special meeting of post members in the Legion Home, Tuesday evening, to make final arrangements for the National Commander's Banquet on Thursday. A final checkup will be made on local ticket sales at this time. Past District Commander A. Lewis Conn states:

Indications point to the usual fine gathering of Legionnaires from Western Pennsylvania and Eastern Ohio at this gathering, and in the neighborhood of 1,500 are expected present to greet National Commander James F. O'Neill of New Hampshire, along with other national and Department officers of the Legion and Auxiliary.

U. S. Takes Lead In Truce Effort For Holy Land

By PIERRE J. HUSS
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., April 12.—The United States will take the lead today in formulating terms for a Holy Land truce—a truce thus far flatly rejected by both Jews and Arabs.

With the April 16 deadline, when the general assembly meets to reconsider Palestine, fast approaching, ten members of the security council will meet in the American delegation's office this morning.

Soviet Delegate Andrei Gromyko has boycotted the first three meetings and most likely will abstain from today's. He has continued to stress Russia's refusal to back down on the partition plan.

However, the Soviet Ukraine will be represented at the session by Vassili Tarassenko, "observed" at the first two conferences and participated fully in the third.

The truce terms are considered a basic preliminary step before the United States can present its trusteeship plan to the special session of the assembly this Friday.

Tentative Order To Reduce Milk Prices In Area

HARRISBURG, April 12.—(INS)—The Milk Control Commission today issued a tentative order that would cut milk prices one cent a quart in the 13-county Pittsburgh marketing area during May and June.

The proposed order would reduce consumer rates to 19½ cents a quart and return it to the present 20½-cent-a-quart price for the remainder of the year. Prices received by farmers would be cut 40 cents to 55.23 a hundredweight during the flush period and revert to $5.63 August 1.

Hearing Friday
The tentative order was approved by Commissioners John J. Snyder and Charles O'Loughlin. MCC Chairman H. N. Cobb recommended no milk price reduction.

A hearing on the tentative order will be held at Harrisburg prior to issuance of a final order by the commission.

The marketing area embraces the following counties: Allegheny, all of Crawford except Venango township and Cambridge Springs borough, Butler, Beaver, Armstrong, Lawrence, Fayette, Greene, Clarion, Mercer, Venango, Westmoreland and Washington.

U. S. Desires Peace, But Is Prepared

By WILLIAM THEIS
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, April 12.—Defense Secretary Forrestal called upon Congress today to make it "clear and manifest that the United States desires peace but is prepared for war if another power wearing the false mask of freedom," seeks to take over western Europe.

Forrestal made it clear that he was referring to the Soviet Union when he said that "today another great and despotic power threatens to extinguish freedom in Europe."

Testifies On Training
He added:

"It must be made clear and manifest to the world that any nation which tries to copy the pattern of action which through Hitler brought so much disaster on mankind must, like Hitler and Germany, face the determination and will of the United States."

Johnson Nominated Brazil Ambassador

WASHINGTON, April 12.—(INS)—President Truman today nominated Herschel V. Johnson, deputy United States representative to the United Nations, to be U. S. ambassador to Brazil.

Johnson was named to replace William D. Pawley, who presented his resignation to the President recently for reasons of health.

Johnson, a veteran career diplomat who has held numerous top diplomatic posts, has been deputy to Warren R. Austin, the U. S. representative to the United Nations, almost since the organization began to function.

Senator Taft Rules Out Tax Boost For Defense This Year

By RAYMOND WILCOVE
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, April 12.—Senator Taft of Ohio today ruled out any boost in taxes this year to offset increased expenditures for national defense.

Simultaneously, Rep. Knutson (R) Minn., expressed the hope that wartime excise taxes can be cut at this session of congress.

Taft turned a cold shoulder to the recommendation of President Truman's council of economic advisers for an anti-inflationary tax rise. The GOP presidential candidate and chairman of the senate's Republican policy committee expressed the view that "we certainly can wait until next January" before deciding whether a tax rise is necessary.

The council, in its first annual report, termed the four billion 800 million dollar GOP tax cut, enacted into law April 2 over Mr. Truman's veto, "impudent" in view of the need for increased expenditures for defense preparedness.

Knutson told reporters that he hopes the house ways and means committee, of which he is chairman, can eliminate at least some of the wartime excise taxes. The committee now is working on a revision of the existing tax structure.

Miners Directed To Return To Jobs After Pension Agreement

By PHILLIPS J. PECK
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, April 12.—John L. Lewis called off the soft coal strike today but failed to escape trial for contempt of a federal court order directing termination of the walkout a week ago.

Judge T. Alan Goldsborough ordered the UMW president to appear at 10 a. m. (EST) Wednesday to stand trial for refusal to obey the anti-strike injunction.

The jurist rejected a plea by Lewis' attorney that the charges be dropped because the 400,000 miners had been directed earlier today to return to their jobs.

Lewis risks a heavy fine and possible jail sentence, if found guilty. Judge Goldsborough fined the union chief and his organization $3,510,000 in 1946 for a similar offense.

Loses Postponement Appeal

Welly K. Hopkins, UMW attorney, also lost his appeal for a week's postponement of the trial. Judge Goldsborough ruled:

"The court sets this case down for Wednesday at 10 o'clock. There will be no discussion and no argument on that point."

Lewis announced the end of the strike after a compromise solution was reached, prior to the court session, on the pension dispute which shut off the nation's bituminous coal supply for 29 days.

In his vain defense of the UMW chieftan, Hopkins revealed to the court that Lewis had anticipated the 11th-hour settlement and sent out back-to-work instructions to the miners even before the agreement was reached.

Should Return To Work
The miners were told in the initial message that "the voluntary cessation of work should now be terminated" and that "an early resolution" of the pension dispute was expected.

When the agreement was reached, a second telegram was dispatched informing the miners of that fact.

Hopkins said the two messages constitute "full, complete and good faith compliance" with the court's anti-strike decree. He asked Judge Goldsborough to vacate that order.

The union attorney argued that the Taft-Hartley law provides that when a labor dispute is dissolved, the attorney general shall move for dismissal of the order against the union. Judge Goldsborough rejected that.

Extend Restraining Order
"The court can't consider seriously a contention of that kind." Thereupon, the jurist set the case for trial and directed the temporary restraining order Lewis is accused of violating be extended 10 days, until April 23. It would have expired tomorrow.

Judge Goldsborough also ordered that the government's request for an 80-day injunction against the mine shutdown be argued Wednesday after the contempt trial.

The White House declined any immediate comment on settlement of the strike. Charles G. Ross, presidential press secretary, refused to answer queries for reaction from President Truman.

May Flare Up Again
Although the pension dispute temporarily is settled through agreement of Bridges and Lewis, it may flare up again later. Van Horn emphasized that he disapproved the compromise because it was "no different" from Lewis' original demands except for a couple of points.

Presumably, Van Horn can go to court in the future and challenge actual payments under the compromise plan.

Lewis informed the union membership that the operators are now "honoring" the contract which the UMW chief asserted they "dishonored" in refusing his pension demands.

The seeds are in and we're waiting now till they shoot through the rich brown earth. They're dampened down so they'll germinate and the money the seeds are worth is not so much if you look at it now, but later if all goes right, there'll be bushels of cabbage and on the shelves tomatoes will be packed tight. Some warm, big sun and some water, too, although we're a little bit late, we're hoping for crops that will show results, the weather is sixty-eight.

East Brook High Designated As 'Ag' Teaching Center

Two Penn State Students Doing Practice Teaching In Agriculture There Now

Recognition of the ability of Howard F. Fox, vocational agriculture instructor at East Brook high school, has been given by Penn State college, which has designated Hickory Township high school at East Brook as a directed teaching center in agriculture, and Mr. Fox as a critic teacher.

The school and Mr. Fox were chosen on the basis of school and teacher standards, which are of a high order.

Starting today, two students have been assigned to East Brook high by Penn State Teachers college for their practice teaching, which will last until June 4.

The students are John D. McFate of Edensburg, and Chester W. Lathrop Jr., of Pittsfield, Mass., both veterans of the late war. Mr. McFate is a graduate of Mt. Jackson high school and spent two years in the field artillery during the late war. He is married and has one child.

Short Occurs In Electric Sign

Three fire companies were called to the Chevrolet-Keystone Auto Co. on West Washington street, at 3:55 p. m., Sunday, when a short occurred in a neon sign. Only a small amount of damage was done.

At 7:45 p. m., Sunday, someone came to Central fire station and reported that an auto was on fire on the South Jefferson street bridge. A fire truck was dispatched to the scene, but no fire could be found in a car which was parked there.

in the air power to 70 groups on the ground that it would necessitate corresponding boosts in Army and Navy strength.

There were reports that President Truman may take a hand in the defense controversy in an attempt to bring about an agreement.

The Senate Armed Service committee also called a meeting to receive further testimony from the Army concerning the effect of a 70 group air force upon needs of the ground forces.

To Consider Program

Later in the day, the House GOP Steering committee plan to consider its legislative program, with Speaker Martin (R) Mass., indicating the military bill will be "high" on the agenda.

Martin said flatly that "the military needs of the nation must come first."

Vinson's disclosure that he had a hand in drafting the bill submitted by Rep. Andrews (R) N. Y., Armed Services chairman, added strength to the proposal. The Georgian is the former House Naval Affairs committee chairman.

Colonel Durant Seeks Release

Writ Of Habeas Corpus Filed In Behalf Of Former Army Colonel Serving Time

ATLANTA, April 12.—(INS)—A writ of habeas corpus, seeking the Jack Durant, was filed today in release from the federal penitentiary of former Army Colonel federal court in Atlanta.

The suit was filed in Federal Judge L. Marvin Underwood's court shortly after 10 a. m., EST.

Judge Underwood set a hearing on the petition for April 19 at 10 o'clock, and ordered Durant to show cause at that time why his release should be ordered.

Durant is serving a 1½-year term at the federal penitentiary in Atlanta in connection with the one and a half million dollar Ilesse crown jewel theft from a German castle during World War II.

cut in individual income levies, indicated he favors eliminating the retail wartime 10 per cent tax on such articles as cosmetics, jewelry and furs. If this were done, it would the tax to the 10 per cent in effect before the war. At present it is 20 per cent.

Other Pressure

There also has been pressure to eliminate the wartime taxes on communications and transportation. This would cost the treasury about one billion dollars, it was estimated.

Some members, among them Knutson, also favor wiping out excise taxes on such commodities as women's handbags and luggage.

There was talk in both the house and senate, when congress overrode the president's veto, that if it was later found necessary, taxes could be increased to offset added defense expenditures.

McDEVITT-VARLEY VOWS EXCHANGED

At a single ring ceremony solemnized Saturday morning at 9 o'clock in St. Mary's church, Miss Elizabeth I. McDevitt, of 428 East Leasure avenue, became the bride of Joseph J. Varley, of 650 South Ray street. Rev. Fr. Francis M. McCarter officiated.

The bride wore a powder blue dressmaker suit of sheer wool with a hat of natural straw completely covered with pastel flowers. Her accessories were salmon pink and she wore a corsage of roses in a harmonizing tint of pink.

As her maid of honor Miss Anne C. Gallagher, of this city, wore a beige suit with toast brown accessories with a corsage of yellow roses.

John J. Gallagher of Pittsburgh, served the groom as best man. After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served to 35 guests at the Manse in New Wilmington with yellow jonquils as decoration and a tiered wedding cake as a feature.

Mr. and Mrs. Varley left on a trip to an undisclosed destination and will be at home after April 19 at 428 East Leasure avenue.

Mrs. Varley was formerly employed at the J. R. Reick Motor Company and Mr. Varley is employed at the National Radiator Company plant here.

On Friday evening rehearsal dinner for the wedding was given by the bride's niece, Mrs. Edna Wadlinger, of 26 North Mercer street, when the bridal party and relatives, a group of 15, were served dinner at 6:30 p. m. Centering the dinner table was a bowl of mixed spring flowers.

Aides were Mrs. Lester S. Levine and Miss Eileen Wadlinger, daughters of the hostess, and Mrs. Thomas Valley.

Following dinner rehearsal was held in the church at 7:45 o'clock.

B. & O. VETERANS TO HAVE DINNER

B. and O. Veterans and Martha Horchler auxiliary will have a fish dinner Wednesday evening, April 14, at 6 o'clock in St. Margaret's hall, Liberty street. Husbands of the members will prepare and serve the dinner. Grand president of B. and O. Veterans' association and Mrs. R. E. Collins, Stanton Island, N. Y., will be special guests.

Ray Walker, Roy Irwin, Oscar Murphy, Vernon Long, W. E. Horner, Edward Scanlon, Fred Freese, Carl Jewell, Ralph Audino, Perry Birk, Myron Olmstead, George Nolte, W. O. Shaw and M. Shuller compose the committee of arrangements.

C. D. OF A COURT MEETING TONIGHT

Catholic Daughters of America, Court Teresa Irene No. 231, will meet tonight at 8 o'clock in St. Mary's Auditorium. All applications for new members are to be handled in at this time. Grand regent, Mrs. Jessie Stenger will preside.

LUNCHEON GIVEN FOR RUTH CHAPMAN

For the pleasure of Miss Ruth Chapman, of this city, Mrs. E. T. McCleary, Mrs. A. C. Davies, and Mrs. Fred Strood, all of Youngstown, entertained at a lovely one o'clock luncheon Saturday afternoon in Mrs. McCleary's home, Fifth avenue, Youngstown.

Miss Chapman is the fiancée of the hostess' nephew, Stanley A. Daniels, Jr., of Struthers, O.

For luncheon, covers were laid for 14 at a prettily appointed table centered with mixed flowers in pastel tones. The guest of honor was presented with a lovely shower gift from the hostesses.

Plans for the wedding are for an open church ceremony to be solemnized Saturday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in the First Methodist church.

Miss Chapman is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Chapman of the Youngstown road.

BRIDE-ELECT OF THIS MONTH PETED

For Miss Edith E. Bodendorfer, a bride-elect of this month, Mrs. Helen Dean and Miss Helen Gartner entertained a group of friends at a miscellaneous shower on Friday evening at the home of Mrs. George Bodendorfer, 915 Beckford street.

Games furnished entertainment during the evening and prizes were awarded to Mrs. Lottie Collins and Mrs. Doris Leslie.

Refreshments were served later at a large table centered by a bouquet of daffodils and yellow carnations. Two miniature bridesmaid dolls favored the guests.

"Edith and Paul, April 17, 1948." The bride-elect then opened an array of lovely gifts.

Aides were Mrs. John Gartner and Mrs. George Bodendorfer.

Miss Bodendorfer, whose fiancé is Paul E. Hartfelder of this city, has asked her sister, Mrs. Helen Dean of Harlansburg, to be her matron of honor and Miss Helen Gartner to be bridesmaid.

Mr. Hartfelder has asked his brother, Arthur Hartfelder, to be best man and Henry Bender and Howard Collins to usher.

The wedding will be solemnized at an open church ceremony at 7:30 o'clock in the evening of April 17 in Christ Lutheran church.

DOUTT-SCHENKER QUIET WEDDING

At a quiet wedding performed in the study of the Second U. P. church, April 9, Patricia Ann Douitt, daughter of Arthur Douitt of Highland Heights, and Donald A. Schenker, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Schenker, No. 10 Greenwood avenue, were united in marriage by Rev. J. Calvin Rose.

The bride was attired in a pink garterbelt suit and hat with black accessories. Her corsage was of white roses and sweet peas. Her attendant Miss Ann Wojnar wore a green suit with black accessories and had a corsage of pink roses and sweet peas.

The groom's attendant was his brother, John L. Schenker. Arthur A. Douitt and Mr. and Mrs. John Schenker were the only other witnesses.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the home of the groom's parents with Mr. John Schenker, Mrs. Julia LeCompte, Mrs. Phyllis LeCompte and Mrs. May Clark serving.

The couple left on a trip to Akron, Ohio and upon their return, they will be at the home of the groom, 10 North Greenwood avenue. Mrs. Schenker is employed at Isaly's, 351 East Washington street, while Mr. Schenker is employed at the Shenango Pottery.

SMITH-ALLISON CHURCH CEREMONY

St. John's Lutheran church was the scene of the wedding of Miss Dorothy M. Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond J. Smith, of 933 Marshall avenue, and Edward E. Allison, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward W. Allison of the Butler road, Friday evening, April 9, at 7:30 o'clock.

Rev. A. E. Simon officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride wore a white slipper satin wedding gown fashioned with a sweetheart neckline and a fitted bodice above the bouffant skirt that ended in a train. Her veil was fingertip length and she carried an arm bouquet of white roses and stephanotis. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls and she carried a Chantilly lace handkerchief that had been carried by the groom's grandmother on her wedding day.

As maid of honor Miss Jo Ann Sargent wore an ice blue taffeta gown and carried pink roses, and bridesmaids, the Misses Betty Hanna and Gracie Trick, wore gowns of flamingo red taffeta and carried cascade bouquets of yellow and white roses.

Thomas T. Braden served the groom as best man and ushers were Lewis Zeigler and Donald Allison, brother of the groom.

Immediately following the ceremony there was a reception for 50 guests in the home of the bride's parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Allison left on a wedding trip to Canada and upon their return will reside for the time being with the bride's parents.

Mr. Allison, a graduate of New Castle high school, is employed in the office of the Borden Ice Cream Company.

Mr. Allison, who also attended New Castle high school, is affiliated with the E. W. Allison Trucking Company.

THE BIG QUESTION

Frankfort-on-the-Main is in the heart of the German zone controlled by American forces, and it is discouraging to hear that communist orators there are maligning everything American to the applause of the crowds. Two such speakers imported from the Russian zone denounced America bitterly the other day and several thousand Germans seemed to like it.

The reds said the United States is importing food into Germany to make profits and that Germany is to be made a capitalist shield against Russia. One of the speakers was the son of Friedrich Ebert, president of the German republic during the twenties. When he said that the United States should quit interfering with Germany and cease trying to convert Germany into a democracy like America, his remarks were well received.

His assertion that President Truman, Secretary of State Marshall and Foreign Secretary Bevin of Britain would not long remain in office won the delightful applause of the crowd. He went beyond a hint that the American form of government would not much longer stand, asserting there were "progressive" forces in this country that are dissatisfied with it.

The Frankfort Germans are not especially pro-Russian, they are anti-American. By the standard of the response of the people involved, American efforts in Germany have been a tremendous flop. Will American efforts be more successful in winning the esteem of the British, the French, the Italians, the Belgians, the Greeks and the Turks?

That is the big question which disturbs the dreams of all Americans who hope for a world of peace and co-operation.

HOME TO ROOST

Some chickens have come home to roost in the backyard of the small but important American garrison in Berlin. Surrounded on all sides by vast stretches of forbidden Soviet territory, it is more or less at the mercy of the reds.

This is not as startling as it sounds. Many Americans stationed in Berlin since June, 1945, and many more who have only studied the peculiar position of this little four-power island on the map, have long been aware of this threat.

They have long argued that it is a deplorable state of affairs for the United States, Britain and France to maintain troops and government offices only at the sufferance of Russia, with the Moscow bolsheviks in position to sever air travel, the one highway and the one railroad leading westward through Soviet territory.

The warnings fell on the deaf ears of those who upheld regulations forbidding Americans to shake hands with Germans on one day and hiring them in positions of trust the next. At no price, the rules said, were the Russian reds to be offended. Washington looked the other way when the Russians tore up the tracks of America's life-line railroad, sending all but a single line to Russia as "reparations."

Not far from U. S. headquarters in Berlin there formerly was a barracks camp for prisoners of war. One day the Germans were gone. It was a standing joke that they had been evacuated to make room for American internees when the Russians took over.

READY WITH BOMBS

Chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission has made a report to Congress. While of a highly confidential nature, enough information has leaked out to indicate the nation is well fortified with atomic bombs and is adding to its store at an increasing rate. To further the program, Congress has appropriated an additional $150,000,000, the full amount asked.

There are two schools of thought on the question of using atomic bombs in the event of war. In some quarters it is held that they should not be used for fear of retaliation. Those who take this position would put the bombs in a class with gas, which was not used in the last war because no nation wanted to take the risk.

Those who advocate strategic use of bombs insist gas is not an effective weapon, and was not used for that reason.

Results obtained in Japan and through experiments conducted since the war leave no doubt about the effectiveness of atomic bombs as a weapon of war. Conflict between two powerful nations, each equipped with the bombs, would be horrible to contemplate. But American military leaders are convinced of the necessity of being prepared for that very thing.

Bees, we read, are on the increase. Especially presidential bees—there's so many of them buzzing in various bonnets.

What the average householder would like to have explained is why the grass he wants in his lawn refuses to grow when every other form of vegetation flourishes without care.

Representative Knutson—a taxpayers' Congressman if there ever was one—is preparing a bill to cut excise and other taxes. Perhaps Truman will be kept busy vetoing tax reductions right up to the precipice in November.

In View Of News Of The World

By J. C. Ostreicher, INS Foreign Director

The tragic, wholly unexpected and disastrous anti-climax to the ninth Inter-American conference at Bogota threw world chancelleries into turmoil today.

But despite this localized violence and regardless of what immediate effect it may have upon the determined efforts of western hemisphere nations to compose their differences, the ultimate objectives of peace and understanding remain unchanged.

Just before beautiful Bogota was battered and its dignity marred by revolution, the conference had been discussing an Argentine resolution favoring elimination of all European rule from the hemisphere.

This issue finally and at some future date probably will go before the little-publicized court of international justice at the Hague. This court—in contrast to the disturbances in Bogota and with violence elsewhere in the world—has been functioning quietly, unobtrusively and non-politically in the royal palace at the Hague in Holland since its creation in 1945.

The court probably reflects more than any other component part of the United Nations the world's desire for peace that prevailed when the UN charter was signed.

Its membership contains no extremists. Its law is that of international law. Its decisions are guided by the lessons of the past.

The court is composed of 15 judges, elected by the General Assembly and the Security Council of the UN.

These judges are not representatives of delegates from the states of which they are citizens. Their allegiance is pledged to the court itself and the United Nations.

The president is Judge Jose Gustavo Guerrero of El Salvador, who before the war was president of the old permanent court of international justice. One statute of the court insists that it must represent the main forms of civilization and the principal legal systems of the world.

For many months the court has been considering the dispute between Great Britain and Albania over the mining of two British deep-sea cables in Albanian waters on October 22, 1946, resulting in the loss of 44 lives.

In this incident there were the seeds of another war and when the issue was placed before the Security Council the atmosphere was dark indeed.

Decision to place it in the court's hands cleared the air immediately. There is a highly competent Russian judge on the bench and an internationally-distinguished Polish one, as well as men from the nations of the western Allies.

Its final verdict will be of profound importance, and the same will apply should the present South American movement on the colonies wind up in the Dutch palace whose facade is emblazoned with the words: "May the sun of justice shine on you."

SELECTED CHILDREN'S BOOKS

Within recent years great progress has been made in production of books for children, especially for young children. The biggest advance has been in the beauty of these books, their print and illustrations.

Though from time to time some books have appeared whose content is of very high order, not so many of these modern books for children will live long. The greatest boon to children's literature has been the attractive reprints of many of the books which have stood the test of time, made available at modern prices.

Beautiful editions of many of the classics for the pre-school as well as school-age child may be had for as little as a ticket-price to a movie. It is wonderful if parents start when the child is a toddler to build up a library for him and then add to it as he grows older to save his money and keep building this library. The books can be very beautiful and of the best literature. They will include such books as these:

List of Books
Mother Goose, Gustav Tengen; When We Were Very Young, and Now We Are Six, by A. A. Milne; Child's Garden of Verses, Robert Louis Stevenson; The Golden Goose Book, Leslie Brooks; Alice in Wonderland, Lewis Carroll; Just So Stories, Rudyard Kipling; Black Beauty, Ann Sewell; A Small Child's Bible (Catholic and Protestant ed.), Pelagie Doane; English Fairy Tales, Jacobus; Aesop's Fables; Adventures of Pinocchio, Carlo Lorenzini; Story of Doctor Doolittle, Hugh Lofting.

Also Heidi, Johanna Spyri; Fairy Tales, Hans Anderson; Arabian Nights, Padraic Colum; Robinson Crusoe, Daniel Defoe; Hans Brinker, Mary M. Dodge; Rip Van Winkle, Washington Irving; The Jungle Book, Rudyard Kipling; Merry Adventures of Robin Hood, Howard Pyle; King of the Golden River, John Ruskin; Swiss Family Robinson, Johann Wyss; Little Women, Louisa Alcott; Christmas Carol, Charles Dickens; Story of King Arthur and His Knights, Howard Pyle; Wild Animals I Have Known, Ernest Seton; Treasure Island, Robert Louis Stevenson; Adventures of Tom Sawyer, Mark Twain.

Read Aloud
Some wise parents have read aloud nearly all these and many other good books to their children before they were eight or ten. Any child hearing such music of literature over and over in his early years will acquire pretty good literary taste. He also will have acquired good patterns of effective speech and writing. What is more, his parents also will.

Wonderful what many teachers are doing to inspire children to read good books and to borrow such from the public library. More and more of such teachers are reading aloud to children at school not only in the kindergarten and early grades but also in high school.

Miss Margaret Clark, head of the Lewis Carroll Room of the Cleveland Public Library, has helped me prepare a selected list of books for children 8 to 12, which have stood the test of time, together with some of the better recent books. This list, together with another list of books from which to read to the baby and young child may be had in a stamped envelope by writing me at 235 East 45th street, New York, N. Y.

Bible Thought
He that followeth after righteousness and kindness findeth life, righteousness and honor. Prov. 21:21.

The average school child must read 14 times more today than in 1900.

Jobs Upon A Time
Radio Comedian Robert Q. Lewis has been broadcasting all his business life. He is a New Yorker, went through high school there and attended the University of Michigan, where he took all sorts of courses, with an eye on a radio profession.

Governor Earl Warren of California, and a possible presidential candidate, was born in Los Angeles. He was admitted to the California bar in 1914 and practiced in Oakland until 1938. He was clerk of the judiciary committee of the state legislature; deputy city attorney; deputy district attorney; Alameda county from 1920-23; attorney general of California, 1939-1943, and has been governor of the state since 1943.

From Me To You
By MESEALL

April showers . . . surely these last two days have been more than just plain little showers . . . and it hasn't been the best thing for the fishermen . . . but maybe by that time things will be in order and a successful day will be enjoyed by many.

Having time over the week-end to do some dreaming . . . we thought about how things could be changed . . . if people would only do something about their plans . . . and that goes down to the individual dream and up to the cooperative dreams . . . The Swing Lobby crowd have dreamed about their new home . . . after the present City building is sold where will the Swing Lobby be held? . . . others dream about parking their cars when coming to town to shop . . . Still others dream about the summer months and where they will spend their vacation.

Dreams seem to lie beyond the stars; A child may reach and pull one away. Place it upon the wounded earth scars, Smile, and the earth forgets for a day. Impulsively a child reaches for the dream—It holds it to a face wreathed in a smile—Is the silent earth masked in a gleam That glows in brilliance only for awhile? Then quiet night, and the stars are gone, A motionless mist absorbs the light. And beyond in clouds the dreams speed on, Concealed, and protected by encroaching night. O that we might reach beyond the stars As the child, to mend the old earth's scars!

The Crop Duster

Washington Comment

(Special to Central Press)
WASHINGTON, April 12.—Gen. Dwight D. (Ike) Eisenhower's blunt announcement through his close friend, Maj. Gen. Floyd Parks, that he would refuse a Democratic presidential nomination "draft" was good news to politically-beleaguered President Truman.

It buoyed Mr. Truman's hopes, because the Democrats may have nowhere else to go. Many anti-Truman Democrats were (and still are) hopeful that Ike might reverse himself on the loud "no" he gave the Republicans in January.

Had Eisenhower done this, most political observers believe the odds would have been heavily against Mr. Truman's being in the running. They figured on the support of most New York delegates, counted certainly on the rebellious south, and estimated they could capture strong support from the west.

However, with Eisenhower having twice declared himself out, the Democrats may have to take Mr. Truman or leave the party when they go to the polls in November.

GRIST FOR MOSCOW?—A House-adopted amendment to the European Recovery Program has administration foreign policy leaders deeply concerned lest it cripple the aid plan and make grist for the Moscow propaganda mill. The amendment gives the ERP administrator final authority to say what United States goods can be exported to Russia and iron curtain countries.

More important, it provides that Marshall Plan participants shall receive no aid if they refuse to put an embargo on their own exports on goods the United States declines to send to eastern Europe.

The focal point of Moscow propaganda against the Marshall Plan has been the charge that it represents an American attempt at "imperialism" and interference in the internal affairs of European countries.

United States government officials fear the amendment will be used by Moscow to "substantiate" these charges. Moreover, Britain and other ERP countries may feel

SIGN OF SPRING
Once again the golfing preacher Drops his duty as a teacher. And on Monday—day of leisure—Gives himself to worldly pleasure: With the afternoon for rest meant. In the locker leaves his vestment; And that he may play the better Wears a faded cap and sweater; And upon the fairways grassy Asks his partner: "Spoon or brassie?"

Some for signs of spring are waiting. For the day when birds are mating. Others feel their pulses throbbing When they glimpse the first red robin. Some say winter isn't over Until green becomes the clover. Some would have the heavens bluer. But for me one sign is truer: "Spring is here!" I shout "Get drums out!" When the golfing parson comes out. (Copyright, 1948, Edgar A. Guest)

Trans-Oceanic Comfort

By PAUL GALLICO

Plans, you will have noted, are under way for the United States Lines to build a swift, 48,000-ton express luxury liner to compete for the transatlantic trade now practically blanketed by the foreign steamship lines, particularly the Cunard with its two giant Queens.

The new ship which is to accommodate 2,000 passengers will be designed to cruise at 28.5 knots, the same speed as the British liners, and would be between 900 and 1,000 feet long.

This Seems To Be Great Idea
This seems to me a great idea. And at no cost whatsoever to the U. S. Lines, I will hereby tell them how to make money with her when she is ready and keep her packed with passengers. I will even undertake to ride her myself at the prevailing rates if the U. S. Lines and the maritime unions are prepared to get together and operate her as a real transatlantic luxury liner instead of on the scale of a broken-down, flea-ridden Broadway hotel in the theatrical section.

Much as I like the big British Queens, I would be enchanted to patronize a ship flying the American flag, American owned and operated—I am just that nationalistic—and I believe that this country ought to be able to give Great Britain or any other nation cards and spades when it comes to building and operating a safe, comfortable and happy ship. Only, when I am asked to fork over five C's or so for a passage, which is at the rate of $100 a day, I want something for it. I want a scrupulously clean cabin fitted with the best appointments that money can buy, first class food, and, above all, friendly service. I don't want to be looked after by a bunch of goons who hate their jobs, hate and despise their employers and who also look and act as though they hated me. It will take thirty months to build this great ship. That's just about enough time for the steamship line to train its crews to treat passengers like friends rather than enemies.

Curious Characteristic Of American
It is a curious characteristic of the American that he has always confused serving with servility. He considers that he is demeaning himself if he hugs in a pile of soup and sets it down in front of you, or if he makes your bed, or goes out to the car and fetches you a highball. He will rarely reflect that what he is doing is a job that not only pays him well, but offers other rewards in satisfaction. He is always a little angry over the fact that he is working for your comfort, that in fact you should have comfort. This probably makes him a good, virile, liberty-loving American under one interpretation, but a poor companion on a sea voyage.

There is something festive and unusual about an ocean trip. Many of us make them purely for business reasons, to get from one continent to another in the line of duty without risking an over-water ride in something as fragile and moody as an aeroplane. But business or no, the holiday feeling takes over once we board ship. A ride across the ocean is an event. And to the man bent on vacationing and his family, it is the most exciting thing of all, a new world, a floating utopia where all his dreams and fantasies about living come true. Once aboard the luller he wants everything that he doesn't get at home; strange and wonderful foods, luxurious surroundings, and friendly and efficient care.

Why They Monopolized Trade
This is what the European steamship lines sell, and why they have monopolized the trade in the past. When you go aboard a British, French, Dutch or Italian liner, you step immediately into England, France, Holland or Italy. The party has begun. Aboard an American ship you are getting third-rate America.

The unions have been only partly to blame for this. The operators must bear their share. No passenger wants waiters or stewards to work inhuman watches as many of them were compelled to do in the past. But he doesn't want to be pushed around either. There must be sufficient help on board. Unless the proprietors spend some money training and staffing the new ship properly, the customers and yours truly will continue to stay away in droves.

One Man's Opinion
By Walter Kiernan

Our government is returning several old masters to Europe . . . possibly in the hope of impressing the new masters.

There were paintings taken "in protective custody" . . . a quaint phrase usually meaning "the motor's running, where's the stuff!"

But by returning the seized paintings we set an example for any power which may have been seizing people.

Mr. Truman has been around twice to see the old masters . . . the way things are going he could use some advice.

The President admired Franz Hals work but this is the year Frank Hague could do more for him.

Hague is no longer active and since he came out for Truman one Republican was heard to say "that proves it."

SMART FELLOW
PHILADELPHIA, (INS)—Fred Thorpe is convinced a good suggestion can really pay off.

A machine repairman at SKF in Philadelphia, 48 years old, Thorpe received $600 dollars for a suggestion that will save the company $4,000 annually.

He proposed the installation of tension pulleys on the sprocket chains to take up slack. With his suggestion went a drawing of his plan.

If the actual savings exceed $4,000, Thorpe will be paid his percentage of the difference.

Turnpike Expansion Seen Lending Impetus To Vast Network Of "Dream Roads"

By JACK WARD
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

HARRISBURG, April 12.—Impetus for a vast nationwide chain of "dream highways" was foreseen by the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission today in the eventual extension of the super-highway to the New Jersey and Ohio borders.

The turnpike commission is the quasi-state agency which controls administration of the present toll road between Pittsburgh and Harrisburg and will supervise its eastern and western extensions.

Completion of the eastern section in particular will provide the vital initial link in an east coast travel network by channeling east-west traffic from New York, Philadelphia and Washington, the commission believes.

With an $80,000 aerial survey just completed, the commission is embroiled in selecting one of three possible routes to stretch the eastern arm of the super-highway from Harrisburg to a point near Philadelphia.

To Announce Route
Route of the proposed extension,
a closely guarded secret, is expected to be announced "shortly", according to turnpike officials. Although the new addition will be approximately 100 miles long—with its terminus in the vicinity of Paoli—officials are hesitant to estimate the cost of the project.

Unofficial estimates, however,
place the expected cost at $70,000, approximately the same as the cost the present portion of the highway, built in 1940 during pre-war "low cost" days.

Commission officials point out that while blueprints for the eastern extension will not be drawn up until the route is determined, actual construction on the project will get underway this year.

Upon completion of these plans,
surveys of the 40-mile western extension from Irwin, Westmoreland county, to the Ohio border will be started immediately, they add.

Delay Explained
Principal cause of the delay in selecting an eastern route is the problem of skirting the rich southeastern farming lands with the least inconvenience, spokesmen explained.

Little difficulty was experienced in selecting existing route since it was constructed on the road-bed of the old South Penn railroad.

Explaining their belief that completion of the turnpike will motivate similar construction in other states, officials point out that high-speed controlled access highways are the only reasonable and adequate means of handling the tremendous increase in traffic.

They explained that super-roads provide the only feasible method of maintaining a smooth flow of interstate and intrastate travel.

More than half a dozen states have evinced interest in Pennsylvania's success with the superhighway. Some, such as New York, already have begun construction of similar projects and others are mapping blueprints.

At the regular Tuesday noon
luncheon meeting of New Castle Lions club, in The Castleton, the speakers will be Mr. and Mrs. J.
Mohler, executive directors of the Oil City branch of the Pennsylvania Association for the Blind.
Frank Ruffalo, executive director of the local branch, will be special guest.

Next Tuesday is also primary election day with the club and all members should bring along their ballots and vote.

Dr. A. Marrangoni Accorded Honor

Medical Graduate Tendered Testimonial Prior To Internship In Pittsburgh

Friends and relatives of Dr. Albert George Marrangoni, a recent graduate physician, gathered in the Hotel New Penn, where a dinner was given in his honor, prior to his departure for his internship in Pittsburgh, Pa. The program held Sunday evening was attended by upwards of 120 guests.

Rev. Fr. V. Bertolino, assistant pastor of St. Vitus church, opened with the invocation. A delicious spaghetti-chicken dinner followed. Salon music was enjoyed during the course of the meal, and bouquets of gay, spring flowers centered the tables.

Dr. Prioletti Toastmaster

Alfonso Scarrazzo, uncle of the honoree, introduced the toastmaster, Dr. John P. Prioletti, noted local surgeon. In paying tribute to the local graduate, Dr. Prioletti, stated that he made for better medicine to see the new crop of physicians entering the profession. He also cited the Hippocratic oath.

Mayor John F. Haven commended the young doctor and his parents, and extended best wishes for the future.

Principal Speaker

Rev. Fr. Albert M. Inteso, assistant pastor of St. Vitus church, as principal speaker told of the great need for doctors. "The medical profession is a great challenge for every graduate," he said. "It is a profession where one must love all that medicine stands for, if he is to face the future—and seek success and happiness. This of course with God's blessing."

Classmates of Dr. Marrangoni's and also graduate physicians who were present last evening from Pittsburgh included: Dr. W. W. G. MacLachlan, Jr., Dr. John Kenny, Dr. David Johns, Dr. George Stitzinger, Dr. Richard McGarvey, Dr. R. E. Lewis, Dr. E. McKee, and Peter Maturio, the latter a medical student.

Local physicians who made brief remarks were: Dr. Ralph Markley, Dr. A. Acquaviva, Dr. William Hinkson, and Dr. S. Skole. Greetings and telegrams were received from Richard, Arthur and James L. Scarrazzo, Jr. A surprise feature of the evening was the presentation of an auto, as a graduation gift from the honoree's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paolo Marrangoni.

Dr. Marrangoni responded graciously. Fr. Bertolino closed with benediction. An informal reception followed and dancing was enjoyed afterwards.

Eight Injured In McKeesport Blast Followed By Fire

MCKEESPORT, Pa., April 12.—(INS)—A woman, her son-in-law and six firemen were injured early today when an explosion and fire wrecked a two-story frame house in McKeesport.

The fire occurred about 2:30 a. m. and the explosion occurred while fighting the blaze.

Firemen Blown Out

Three of the injured firemen were in the house when the explosion cut loose. They said they were blown to the outside by the concussion, along with some of the furniture.

The blast knocked the house from its foundation, moved the front porch six inches from the house and blew out one whole side of the house. Houses were shaken for a block around.

None of the injured was in a serious condition, but all eight of them were detained in McKeesport hospital.

Around Hollywood

By FRANK NEILL

(International News Service Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, April 12.—(INS).—Billy DeWolfe, the most kissless leading man in Hollywood next to cowboy stars Gene Autry and Roy Rogers, was a sad sack today.

The big wheels at Paramount studios told him he couldn't marry Veronica Lake. They declared: "Sorry. It's all off, we've had to change the script. You lose Miss Lake to a stranger in the fadeout shot. That's final. There is no appeal."

Can Get Romantic
The flicker in question was "Isn't It Wonderful?" Through nine reels DeWolfe wooed Veronica. It was to have been his first romantic success.

He mused morosely: "I resent the implications in robbing me of Miss Lake. Maybe I'm not as pretty as Van Johnson or Victor Mature, but I can get as romantic as the next guy. This whole thing is a conspiracy." DeWolfe almost married Joan Caulfield in "Dear Ruth". They were engaged for eight reels. She married Bill Holden in the ninth.

Got Dancing Role
"I mailed the letter at noon and reported for my final day of ushering. The manager came up—and said he had given me a feature dancing role in the coming week's show.

"My big break—with that biting letter in the mail! But for some reason I kept my mouth shut."

Next morning when Bill looked in the mailbox at his boarding house, there was the vitriolic epistle he had sent his boss.

He had forgotten to stick a stamp on the envelope—and the letter had come right back to him.

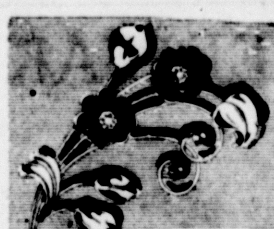

Bill Jones became Billy DeWolfe and finally wound up as a movie star—all because of a three-cent postage stamp.

Four East Brook F. F. A. boys were among the 18 that received the "County" farmer degree at Slippery Rock Thursday evening. The boys honored were Donald Smith and Jack Brua, R. D. 3, Volant; Albert Cummins and James Book, R. D. 4, New Castle.

Over 100 F. F. A. boys and their teachers assembled at the Slippery Rock high school to see the degree conferred by the area officers. The group came from Butler, Beaver and Lawrence counties.

The degree was earned by the young men for outstanding work in projects last year and leadership and scholarship in the F. F. A.

Plan F. F. A. Dinner

On Fast Time

City street department workers are now working on fast time—or daylight saving time, according to Streets Director James Gibson. Cart men, or broom men, report at five a. m. and work until 11 a. m. Other employees report at seven a. m. and quit at 3:30 p. m.

Mr. Gibson stated that this arrangement permits work to be done before the arrival of motor cars on heavily travelled streets and permits the men to do much of their work in the "cool of the morning."

Asked as to his personal view toward daylight saving time, Mr.

Gibson stated: "I believe there should be a uniform time, whether or not it be D. S. T. or E. S. T. On the other hand, I recognize the vote of the people, too."

The Nile is not only the largest river in Africa, but is the second longest in the world, the first being the Missouri-Mississippi. The Nile's length from the Victoria Nyanza to the Mediterranean has been variously estimated, but it is about 3,670 miles.

Red Salmon runs of western Alaska have declined in abundance in recent years, in spite of the fact that at least 50 per cent of each year's run has been allowed to ascend rivers to spawn, according to a report to Secretary of the Interior Krug by Director Albert M. Day of the Fish and Wildlife Service.

The coyote, following man into Alaska, has become a major menace to other wild life.

GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY OPEN HOUSE EVENT

In celebration of their golden wedding anniversary, which occurs today, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Scott McCaslin, of 908 East Washington street, received congratulations from nearly 200 friends, neighbors, and acquaintances at an open house at home Sunday afternoon and evening.

To receive, in the flower-filled living room, Mrs. McCaslin wore a gray crepe dinner gown with gold accessories and an orchid corsage. And receiving with Mr. and Mrs. McCaslin were their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. W. Kenneth McCaslin. The latter wore a floor-length gown of black crepe with a corsage of pink roses.

Displayed on tables about the downstairs were many lovely gifts of crystal and gold and bouquets of colorful flowers. There were cakes specially decorated for the occasion and many cards, telegrams, and phone calls of congratulations received by the couple.

Hours were 2 to 5 o'clock in the afternoon and 7 to 10 in the evening.

Guests were served refreshments from a table festively decorated in keeping with the occasion. Small cakes were inscribed "50 Years" in gold colored icing and a tiered wedding cake was all in gold and white.

Guests registered in a guest book, the gift of the Sunday school class taught by Mrs. McCaslin at the First U. P. church continuously for the past 35 years.

Aides were Mrs. Daniel Leone, of Albany, N. Y., a sister of Mrs. McCaslin, who was present at the wedding fifty years ago in the home where Mr. and Mrs. McCaslin still live, Mrs. Lenchen Fredericks, of Harrisburg, Miss Melba Davenport, of Youngstown, Mrs. Norman Duff, Mrs. Thomas Keane, Mrs. Arthur Snyder, Mrs. Roy Leslie, Mrs. Luanna Book, and Mrs. Arlie Murdoch. Each wore a tiny corsage of yellow roses.

Mrs. Leone and Mrs. Fredericks are house guests in the McCaslin home for a few days, having come to New Castle to be present at the fiftieth anniversary celebration.

HOBBO HOP EVENT OF SATURDAY EVENING

One of the most successful New-Ca-Hi dances of the year, attended by approximately 400 students, was the hobbo hop given by the junior class in the high school gym Saturday evening.

For the occasion the gym was transformed into an old barn with lanterns, grain sacks, scarecrows and yellow and brown crepe paper as decorations, where in motley hobbo costumes the crowd filled the floor as an orchestra played for dancing from 8:30 to 11:30.

General co-chairmen of arrangements were Gilbert Disen and Bob Cassella, and aiding with arrangements for the successful event were class president, Myron Frank and the following chairmen: tickets, Richard Stevens; refreshments, Marvin Leiby; program, Carol Gilmore; advertising, Mary Louise Campbell; entertainment, Harry Bowen; decorations, Bob Reiber.

Other officers of the junior class are: vice president, Vincent Lamorella; secretary, Mary Lou Rocks; treasurer, Peggy Floyd. Miss Frances Hayden is class supervisor.

Plans are already under way for a semi-formal junior-senior prom on June 7.

STROUP-OLZAK WEDDING QUIET

Parsonage of the United Presbyterian church of Ellwood City was the scene of a quiet wedding ceremony on Saturday afternoon at 2:30 when Miss Shirley Ann Stroup, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Stroup, of 607 Franklin avenue, became the bride of Frank J. Olzak, of 636 Park avenue, Ellwood City, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rev. W. E. Minter officiated in the presence of Miss Zoe Stroup, who served as her sister's honor attendant, Miss Mary Ellen Bogt, Boyd McDowell, who was best man, and Harry Gregor, of New Castle.

The bride wore a street-length dress of white sharkskin with a white hat and a corsage of white roses. Miss Zoe Stroup wore a white suit with a corsage of pink roses, and Miss Bogt also wore white and a corsage of pink flowers.

After the ceremony a wedding dinner was served to 25 guests in the home of the bride's parents where a tiered wedding cake and vases of sweet peas decorated the bride's table.

The couple left by car on a wedding trip to an undisclosed destination and upon their return will take up residence in an apartment at the corner of Park avenue and Seventh street in Ellwood City.

Two Meet Death In Italy Due To Election Rally

Nationwide One-Hour Sitdown Strike in Italy Passes Off Without Incident

ROME, April 12.—(INS)—A nationwide one-hour sitdown strike went off without incident in Italy today, but two persons were killed in an explosion at an election rally. The deaths occurred at Lizzanello, in southeastern Italy, while a Communist speaker was addressing a crowd. Twenty persons were injured, two of them seriously.

Ambassador Fired
Italian Foreign Minister Count Carlo Sforza announced that the Italian Ambassador to Poland, Ambrogio Donini, was fired for leaving Warsaw to participate in the election campaign.

Donini, who is running for the senate on the pro-Communist "People's Front," left the Polish capital after Sforza had refused to grant him a leave.

The nationwide strike was in protest against the recent assassinations and kidnappings of Sicilian labor leaders.

Employees remained at their posts but did no work between the hours of 10 and 11 a. m., local time.

The Lizzanello fatalities were a 15 year old boy and a man.

The Communist speaker, Giuseppe Calasso, was among those wounded by the blast.

Church Choir Elects Officers

Canned Goods And Soap Collected
To Be Shipped To Needy
People Of Poland

Officers were elected at the recent meeting of the Lutnia choir of the Holy Trinity Polish National Catholic church.

President, Alex Michaels; vice president, Pete Szesko; recording secretary, Wanda Yarosz; financial secretary, Helen Otlowski; treasurer, Eva Lesniak; sick calls, Verna Drapko. Spiritual Director Fr. E. C. Kuzminski was in charge.

The dance announcement was made for April 24 at the Falcons hall.

The religious concert of the united choir aria, to be held at the Sacred Heart church in Youngstown on Sunday, April 11, was discussed and all members of the Lutnia choir will meet Sunday at 3:30 p. m. at the church auditorium, prior to leaving for Youngstown.

A very successful campaign for the collection of canned goods and soap has been concluded at the Holy Trinity Polish National Catholic church. Over 400 canned goods and over 200 cakes of soap have been collected in the past three weeks. The campaign was in charge of Rev. Fr. E. C. Kuzminski, pastor of the church, who expresses his sincere appreciation for this gratifying result, to all members of the congregation and others who donated so generously.

Fr. Kuzminski will leave Monday morning for Scranton, where he will deliver the goods, from where it will be sent to the needy people of Poland.

Special Course For ORC Officers

The Commanding General, Second Army, Fort George G. Meade, Md., has announced that a plan is under study to provide a special course of instruction for officers of the Organized Reserve Corps. This course is to be conducted at Fort George G. Meade, Md., for all officers who reside in Pennsylvania. The present plans are to provide three progressive courses of two weeks each over a period of two years. If the plan is put into operation, the first course will begin sometime after July 1, 1948.

Earl P. McBride In Navy's School

It was announced today by the local Navy Recruiting Station that a Volant youth, Earl Paul McBride has entered the navy's famous electronic technician's school at the Great Lakes Naval Training Center.

McBride enlisted in the Naval service here in October of this year. While attending the Volant high school he was examined for navy specialty electronic training and found qualified. He enlisted in the Navy as an apprentice seaman "Electronic Technician" and has received two promotions, Seaman Second Class and Seaman First Class. He will be graduated from the electronic technician's school with at least the rating of Third Class Petty Officer. The school is of 42 weeks duration.

Doctors' Amazing Discovery

LOSE WEIGHT Without Dieting!

NOW! WITHOUT DIETING you can lose ugly pounds and regain that lovely, more slender figure with this new AYDS Reducing Plan! No drugs, laxative, massage or exercise. Absolutely harmless. You simply take AYDS before meals, which automatically curbs the appetite. The result is you eat less and accordingly lose weight.

READ WHAT A FEW, OF MANY, AYDS USERS SAY:

LOST 16 POUNDS IN 4 WEEKS!
Mrs. A. K., Chicago, Ill., says: "I lost 16 pounds in four weeks, the exact amount I wanted to lose so that I could wear size 12 again. I owe AYDS a lot for 'saving' my expensive wardrobe."

LOST 65 POUNDS!
Mrs. Dorothy J. Miller, Chicago, says: "I lost 7 pounds the first week using AYDS as directed. In 13 weeks I had lost 65 pounds... from 180 to 115. I now wear size 12 again, and my friends tell me I look better. I know I feel youthful and happy again!"

LOST 45 POUNDS!
Mrs. E. Pruser, 806 North 7th St., Logan, Utah, says: "Before I started reducing with AYDS I weighed 207 and I wore size 42 dress. Thanks entirely to the effective AYDS Plan, I now weigh 142 and wear a 14 dress. Although I am a grandmother, I now look years and years younger!"

LOST 55 POUNDS!
Mrs. Dorothy Van Arsdale, Terre Haute, Ind., says: "I lost 55 pounds the AYDS way... lost 20 pounds the first month. Formerly I wore a size 40, now a size 14 dress!"

Many report loss of inches in bust, waist, hips, chin, neck, abdomen, calves, arms and legs. All letters quoted, and many others, are in AYDS company files. Thousands of grateful users praise the help the AYDS Candy Plan has given them in losing weight and inches.

LOST 53 POUNDS

No Students Of Jameson Hospital
Nursing Class Authorized To Solicit Here, Youngquist Says

Complaints have come to the authorities of the Jameson Memorial hospital, that a young woman, giving her name as "Darlene Cain" has been soliciting magazine subscriptions in the city, stating that she is using this method of financing her self in a course in nursing at the Jameson Memorial hospital.

Administrator C. R. Youngquist and Director of Nurses Mrs. Jane Geiger, state that no person by that name is registered as a prospective student, and that the hospital does not encourage any such solicitation.

Anyone who is approached by such a person is asked to notify the chief of police at once.

New Castle Public Schools

One of a series of articles concerning the public schools of New Castle. Written by a member of the New Castle Chapter, Pennsylvania State Education Association.

HOME FROM GUIDANCE

In the last fifty years, life has become exceedingly complex. Great changes have taken place in the way of living.

Through the Guidance Program in the Public Schools, efforts are being made to help each future citizen of America adjust himself to this complex society wherein he must find his place as a desirable adult.

Guidance goes beyond the curriculum and basic academic learning. It is the integration of the mental, physical and social potentialities of each individual.

It is our practice in the junior high school to have a brief period of instruction in the home room at the beginning of each day. Officers are elected to help with these programs. Parliamentary procedures are practiced and social activities planned with pupil participation in the group undertakings.

Through this social, moral and ethical guidance an attempt is made to promote the growth of ideals of good citizenship and an intelligent acceptance of social standards and good manners.

One phase of guidance is a definite attempt to bridge the gap between the elementary and junior high school. The purpose of the seventh grade orientation programs is to create a better understanding of the changes in school surroundings. In this way fear is eliminated and a healthful attitude toward the new school is achieved.

The final outcome of our guidance program is to eventually produce not only a happy citizen, but one who will effectively serve both himself and society. Thus a better and more democratic world may be realized.

Crash Of Plane Kills One, Two Suffer Injuries

Plane Plunges In Fog And Rain
On Mountain Slope Near Indiantown Gap

LEBANON, Pa., April 12.—(INS)—One man was dead today and two others injured in the aftermath of a plane crash on a fog and rain-swept mountain near the Indiantown Gap Military reservation.

The Good Samaritan hospital identified the dead man as Richard Thomas, a foreman for John Noe, 36, the pilot, and a Madison, N. J., florist, who was injured in the crash along with his 13-year-old son, John, Jr.

Blinded By Fog

State police said the private plane, en route to Madison, had taken off from Hershey airport shortly before the crash. The pilot apparently was searching for a landing strip on the reservation but was blinded by the fog.

State police and stretcher bearers from the independent borough ambulance struggled up the mountain through underbrush to rescue the victims.

Four hours after the crash, the boy was admitted to the hospital and his father two hours later. Thomas was dead on arrival of the rescue party, police said.

The father suffered a fractured left upper arm, a back injury, cuts and bruises while his son was treated for a fractured right lower leg, bruises and lacerations.

Report 34 Rabies Cases In State

HARRISBURG, April 12.—(INS)—Thirty-four cases of rabies were reported during the first three months of 1948 compared with 93 in a similar period last year, it was reported today by Secretary of Agriculture Miles Horst.

During the first quarter of 1944, he added, 273 cases of rabies were reported.

He attributed the decline to co-operation of local officials in efforts to stamp out rabies.

Teachers Meet In Capital On Friday

HARRISBURG, April 12.—(INS)—Several hundred teachers from northeastern states will open a two-day meeting at Harrisburg Friday to discuss new classroom responsibilities posed in the postwar era.

The Pennsylvania State Education association said today that the theme of the meeting would be "mobilizing the classroom teacher force to strengthen the moral fibre of the nation."

Outstanding teacher-leaders from Pennsylvania, New York, New Jersey, Maryland, Delaware, Washington, D. C., and the New England states will participate in the meeting, the PSEA said.

Advisors of the National Education association will give a three minute report on the activity of educators in each of the 12 states, according to the PSEA.

ENDS SUB TRAINING

Chief Machinist's Mate S. E. Bond of the New Castle Navy Recruiting Station announced today that J. D. DeCaprio, Motor Machinist's Mate 3-C has graduated from the Navy's submarine school at New London, Conn.

DeCaprio enlisted in the U. S. Navy from New Castle and at present is home on thirty-five days leave. Upon completion of leave he will be transferred to the submarine base at Mare Island, California.

A new electronic navigator for airplanes is expected to ease airport traffic conditions. It will have the effect of broadening the nation's air lanes at least 10 times at each flight level.

HOFFMAN LEAVING PENN STATE POST

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., April 12.—(INS)—William S. Hoffman, registrar of Pennsylvania State college since 1923 and a staff member for 37 years, today announced he planned to retire February 28, 1949.

Royal M. Gerhardt, of Brookfield, Ill., has been chosen to succeed Hoffman, according to James Mitholland, of Pittsburgh, president of the board of trustees.

Sentence Youths To Reform School

Three Of Group, Mixed Up In Burglaries, Are Sentenced To Camp Hill Industrial School

YOUNGER BOYS IN JUVENILE COURT

Three youths, arrested last week on a charge of breaking and entering a number of places on the South Side and in Shenango Township, during recent months, were before the court Saturday, and were sentenced to undergo imprisonment in the Pennsylvania Industrial School at Camp Hill, Pa., for an indeterminate period, by Judge W. Walter Brahm.

Three other youths, of younger age, but belonging to the same gang, were turned over to Juvenile Court, and disposition of their cases will be made later.

Those sentenced to Camp Hill, were James Fandozzi, Fred Main, and Benny Kobialski.

Among the homes entered were those of Harold Snyder, of Pennsylvania Avenue Extension, Mrs. Stewart, Galbreath, of R. D. 6; Pesigna's Bakery on Long avenue; and Brice's skating rink at Cascade Park, which was entered twice. Candy, cigarettes, money and foodstuffs were taken. They also were alleged to have taken a bicycle owned by Mrs. John Contos, of 1504 1/2 Hamilton street.

They were arrested by state police last week and admitted their guilt.

In the case of Isaac Deep, who came to city police and confessed to having entered the Pesigna bakery and to have broken into the Beres Beauty Shop, sentence was suspended pending a mental examination, and Deep was released on his own recognizance after posting bond in the sum of $300. Deep's story that he broke into these places is doubted by the authorities.

CIVIL COURT ENDS

Civil Court was brought to a close last week, with verdicts being returned in two more cases.

In the suit of C. W. Robinson vs Cosmo Bordonaro, involving repairs to a truck owned by Mr. Bordonaro, Robinson claimed he was owed $926.32 by the defendant. A jury awarded him $439.55 which included $30.66 interest.

In the suit of Earl Harper and Theresa Harper, his wife, versus Frank Frisbee and Geraldine Frisbee, his wife, a verdict was awarded the plaintiffs in the sum of $2,500, which was said to be due them on a property deal.

COUNTY TAX STILL LOW

Although slightly higher than they were two years ago, the county tax millage is much lower in proportion than city taxes, which now stand at the highest mark in many years.

The county millage for next year is 5 1/2 mills, which is 3 1/2 mills under the high point during the depression. In 1943 and 1944, the county millage was only 2 1/2 mills. The city millage is 15 mills, the highest in many years.

Harper McKnight, missionary presentation, Juniors of Second, New Castle, prepared and directed by Charles E. Book; 3:40, benediction, Dr. J. Paul Graham.

Truck Association Denies Implicity

HARRISBURG, April 12.—(INS)—Complicity in the sitdown strike of independent truckers on the Pennsylvania turnpike was denied today by the Pennsylvania Motor Truck association.

Edward Gogolin, PMTA manager, took exception to complaints made to Gov. James H. Duff by L. W. McIntyre, vice president of the Pittsburgh Motor club, and claimed the demonstration was staged by what he called a "misguided minority".

SEED CONSERVATION DOUBLY DESIRABLE

Since legume seeds, especially red clover, continue very scarce and high in price, careful use of them is urged in order to stretch the available supply and to save cash.

This may result in some desirable substitution of alfalfa for red clover. Alsike may also be used in part, but it makes short hay in dry seasons and no second crop. Ladino clover is not so good for hay as for pasture and except where timothy is to be mowed several years, it is hardly worth including. Sweet clover is not a satisfactory substitute.

Clover is too important in the rotation for both hay and soil improvement to be omitted on any land sweet enough to grow it, even if the seed is high, but with proper care a little seed can be made to go a long way. Good stands of red clover are often secured with 4 pound per acre, and in the present situation, a bushel should cover 10 acres. This is no excuse for the large amounts of seed sometimes sown.

When clover is sown with spring grain, a good, solid seedbed almost always gives the best stand. Dropping the seed behind the drill will reduce losses from too deep covering.

SAVE SOIL—SAVE THE FARM

The amount of top-soil on a field largely determines the fertility, and loss of topsoil decreases the value of the farm. That is the reason which W. H. McCullough, Big Beaver Township farmer, gives for using contour strips to prevent soil washing.

Mr. McCullough has used contour strips on several of his fields for about ten years, and recently divided two other fields in strips. These contour strips, crossing the field on a level line, slow down the flow of water, reducing the amount of rain which leaves the field and also reducing the soil loss.

Quite a number of Lawrence County farmers use contour strips and like them. Recently J. V. Aiken and Sons, and Harry Boots of Perry Township divided fields into strips. Anyone may obtain information about erosion control by writing or calling the Lawrence County Agricultural Extension Office, 206 Post Office Building, New Castle—telephone 2972.

Tuesday night Bible Study Class has been canceled for this week.
Thursday the R. W. Class will hold its regular monthly meeting at the church. Mrs. Charlotte Seeger will be responsible for the entertainment.

LADIES MISSIONARY SOCIETY
Fourteen ladies of the Grace Bible Missionary Society motored to Ellwood City April 8, where they held their regular business and social meeting at the home of Mrs. Ben Gardner. The meeting was in charge of the president, Mrs. Lester Woods, and was opened with prayer by Mrs. George Fissel and the reading of the scripture. After necessary reports were given, the ladies decided to send a "Missionary Box" to Rev. and Mrs. Harold Morris, who are doing missionary work in Kentucky. Household equipment as well as clothing is very much needed. The May meeting will be held in the church in the form of a tureen dinner and will be climaxed with the packing of the box. Mrs. Courtney Bunney was the speaker for the evening and used as her subject "Two Candidates for the Mission Field." The meeting was closed with prayer by Mrs. John Bockius. The hostess served a delicious lunch with places being laid for 14 and the table was gaily decorated and centered with a bouquet of daffodils. Special guests for the evening were Mrs.

Jay Allsworth, Mrs. Wm. Blews, Mrs. John Bockius and Mrs. Sadie Conley.

Hope Is Seen For Early End Of Coal Strike

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., April 12. (INS)—Hope spread through the hard coal fields today that the week-old wildcat strike of almost half of the industry's miners would end within 48 hours.

The hope was based on UMWA President John L. Lewis' maneuvers for a pension plan for bituminous coal miners who have been on strike almost a month.

One mine official said he anticipated a full crew to report tomorrow should a settlement of the soft coal strike be forthcoming.

Operators said they had received no replies to telegrams sent Lewis and the heads of UMWA Districts One, Seven and Nine, urging them to order idle miners back to work.

Class Of 1913 Is Planning Reunion

High School Graduates Of Thirty-Five Years Ago Will Have Gathering This Summer

Arrangements are now being made by the officers of the graduating class of 1913 of New Castle high school, for their anniversary reunion, which will take place during the summer. Mrs. R. C. Gilmore, president of the class stated today.

The class has had a reunion every five years since graduation, with the exception of 1943, when the custom was suspended due to the war.

Several meetings of the committee on arrangements have already been held, and a definite date is expected to be decided upon at the next meeting.

News Man Recalls Visit To Colombia

Present Developments In Bogota Cause Concern Over Local Missionaries There

Vivid recollections of a several days visit to Bogota, the capital of Colombia, South America, are recalled by Woodson W. Collins of The News editorial staff, who spent some time in the Colombian capital during a visit with his brother-in-law and sister, Rev. and Mrs. Frederick A. Smith, missionaries to that country under the Christian and Missionary Alliance.

The bombing of the American Legation building and the insurrection which broke out there Friday afternoon has caused much concern over the welfare of the Smith family, who are quite close to Cali, Colombia's third largest city which has been taken over by the rebels.

The last word received from the Smiths by the Collins family came the latter part of March when Mrs. Smith had entered a hospital in Popayan, Cauca, Colombia for confinement. Word is expected momentarily by wire concerning the safety of the Smith family. Only Rev. and Mrs. Smith and their three year old son, Frederick, Jr., are in Colombia, while their two daughters, Elenita and Carola are attending school in Quito, Ecuador.

Flew To Bogota
Mr. Collins flew to Bogota in August of 1943 while he was in the employ of the Panama Canal at Balboa, Canal Zone, Bogota, itself is 9,000 feet up in the mountains and to get to the city, the plane must reach a height of twelve to thirteen thousand feet before it lands at the airport some ten or eleven miles from the downtown section of the city where are centered the government buildings where the trouble is centered.

Bogota is one of the most modern cities in South America, despite its location high up in the mountains. One of the unusual facts of the climate is that perhaps every two or three hours, a fine mist falls resembling rain, due to the city being so high in the clouds. It has modern buildings, streetcars and transportation systems.

The building of the U. S. Legation was visited by The News man during his visit there. The present government in power is favorable to the work being done by the Smiths and other missionaries there.

Rev. and Mrs. Smith and their family have been home for a furlough since Mr. Collins visited there and will return to the U. S. in the summer of 1950.

Lt. James A. McCann Visits With Parents

In Naval Air Force; Flies Here From Atlantic City; Hears From Former Jap Guard

Lieut. James Arthur McCann of Atlantic City, who has been visiting over the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. McCann, 313 West Clayton street, expects to go to Akron, O., today and return by plane to Atlantic City.

Lt. McCann arrived at the local airport on Saturday, called home to confirm his having circled over his parents home, and waved greetings to his mother from the plane. Jim is using a "Hell Cat" fighter plane. He had to take his plane to Akron, as there was no government guard at the local airfield, and Mr. and Mrs. J. H. McCann and son John E. McCann and wife of Mt. Jackson road drove to Akron to bring Jim here.

The latter is attached to the naval air force at Atlantic City, is a veteran of World War II, was a prisoner for seven months of the Japs, being shot down over Tokyo. Lt. McCann received a letter recently from one of his Jap guards, sending greetings, and desires to send Jim's wife and his mother a gift. The Japanese graduated from Tokyo university, end of March, and will soon be admitted to the bar. Jimmy learned German in high school, and the Japanese learned German in Osaka university, and they used that language in their conversations.

Enjoy Fun Night

At Mahoning School

About 140 young folks gathered on Friday evening at Mahoning school and enjoyed "Fun Night", under the auspices of Seventh Ward Civic club. The 1937 club is assisting by furnishing additional chaperons.

The "Fun Night" event is for classes seven, eight and nine of Mahoning school.

The paper collection will be made in the ward and community on Wednesday afternoon from 4 to 5. Magazines and newspapers should be bundled separately and securely and placed on the curb; in case of rain, bundles should be placed on porch.

Railroad Man

Suffers Injury

Clare M. Uber, aged 42 years, of 928 Maryland avenue, a flagman for the B. & O. railroad, suffered a possible fracture of the left shoulder and severe contusion of the forehead, received when he was thrown against a cupboard while passing through a car on a moving train Sunday morning. He was taken to the Jameson Memorial hospital for treatment at 10 a. m. Sunday.

Has Phone Call From Sister In Canada

Rev. and Mrs. J. L. Petrie of West Clayton street received a call on Sunday from the latter's sister, Mrs. Walter Austin, St. Thomas, Ontario, Canada, saying she had returned to her home Saturday from the hospital, where she had been confined for four weeks. She underwent a serious operation three weeks ago, and is getting along as well as can be expected. Mrs. Austin's little daughter, visiting with the Petries, sang a little song to her mother over the phone.

Sees Proof Of Soviet Action In Colombia

NEW YORK, April 12.—(INS)—
Dr. Eduardo Santos, vice-president of Colombia, said today that the rupture of his country's relations with Soviet Russia indicates that the new coalition government has proof of Russian intervention in the Colombian revolt.

Dr. Santos is staying in New York, after a European trip, pending his return home shortly.

He said that he has not had direct word from Bogota on the severance of relations, but received his word from news dispatches in New York.

Of the new coalition government,
he said "I am convinced that it is supported by the vast majority of the Colombian people and the political parties, because it represents the main political forces in the country."

Frederick A. Smith, missionaries to Colombia, South America have become the parents of twins, a son and a daughter, born on April 4,
1948 at Popayan, Cauca, Colombia,
South America.

The infants have been named
David Edward and Lynda Ruth.
According to the letter received,
both mother and infants are doing well. Mrs. Smith, the former Della
Collins, is a graduate of the Mt.
Jackson High school and the Missionary Training Institute, Nyack,
N. Y. The missionary couple left
New Castle in August of 1946 for their second five year term of service.

Quarter-Finals In Tourney Tonight

Six Of Survivors Meet In Three Fast Contests

Gus "Little Five" East Brook "Brookers" Matched; Figo-Phillips Tangles With Rick Panthers; Sno-Tops Meet Thompsons; Eagles Idle.

With the Y. M. C. A.'s junior basketball tournament destined to conclude this Friday evening, the quarter-finals will be run off tonight as the quints roar down the homestretch.

Six of the seven survivors will be in action, with the first toss-up slated for 7:15. The Eagles club juniors will be the only idle team, this outfit having fought its way to the semi-finals Friday evening with a 58-47 victory over the Hoyle Atlantics.

The East Brook "Brookers", seeking to emulate their big brothers, the Boosters (city-county senior champs) will be out to gain another notch up the ladder to the championship when they bang into the Gus "Little Five" in the curtain-raiser.

The "Brooks" had an uphill battle in their inaugural before they disposed of the V. F. W. 39-30, but figure to be hitting tonight. They have a tall and fast-moving quintet, sprinkled generously with high school aces. Leading point-makers are Don Smith and Bud Mayberry, while Billy Pontius, the clever little ball-mover and eagle-eyed charity line artist, sets 'em up.

The "Little Five" (a misnomer since the team is long on stretch) features the antics of Jimmy Jancone, ex-New Castle high whiz, Bobby Sessions, colored star of the champion Shenango street 'Y', Phil Conti, Ne-Ca-Hi reserve driver, and Tony Cialella, varsity performer with the Hurricane this season. Paul Cuba, Jr., will probably run with the latter at the guards.

Second Game Looks Close

The 8:15 offering should be a tense struggle as the Figo-Phillips team takes on the Rick Panthers. The former unit waited the Variety Five, 49-14, led by Arsen Ross and "Red" Richards, and figure to give the favored Panthers a real game.

The Ricks have two deadly hoopers in "Chuck" Res and Don Wai- ters, former New Castle high streaks, and must be rated slight favorites to win. Res holds the record for the most points in one game so far—30. He amassed this total against the Titans as his team advanced, 60-32.

The finale pits the Thompson Drugs of New Wilmington again Merle Hoover's "Sno-Toppers"—a classic match. The up-county five plastered an outmanned Youngsters team Friday night, 65-36, while the Sno-Tops laid it on the Mountaineers, 40-25.

Tom Hutchison and "Mitch" Garrett, New Wilmington high sparkplugs, have proved the big guns in the Thompson attack, while the play of Don Black, great Hurricane performer, and Wayne Fullerton, six-foot center of the Red and Black, stood out as the "Tops" coped their opener.

Rain Curtails

'Chiefs' Workout

Rain and wet grounds tended to curtail somewhat the workout of the New Castle "Chiefs" here today, but General Manager George Smith announced a workout for 11 o'clock Tuesday morning, (weather permitted).

Smith returned to New Castle today after a weekend trip to New Kensington and had four players in tow: Russ Myers, Adams, Stan Sobolak and Frank Jaskey. These boys will join the workout Tuesday.

PRACTICE TODAY

Weather permitting, West Side Tigers will practice at Lee avenue at 5 p. m. today.

Briefs From Major Camps

(By International News Service) The Boston Red Sox, rated favorites with the New York Yankees for the American League pennant, are not looking the part these days.

The Sox got only three hits yesterday and lost to Atlanta, 1 to 0. Boston's Braves also lost, but threw a ninth-inning scare into Fwell Blackwell before bowing to Cincinnati, 4 to 3. Babe Young knocked 3 three runs for the Reds and scored another.

Both Chicago teams won. The White Sox collected 14 hits and downed Pittsburgh, 5 to 1. The Cubs smothered Dallas, 12 to 3. Cleveland finally stopped the New York Giants, 12 to 4, by throwing Bob Feller into the breach.

Dutch Leonard, in prime form, pitched the Phillies to a 9 to 1 romp over Washington.

Detroit bowed to Memphis, 9 to 7. Both St. Louis teams also were beaten by Minor Leaguers. The Cardinals vanquished by Houston, 3 to 1, and the Browns lost to Fort Worth, 8 to 5.

Billy Johnson whacked two homers and Joe DiMaggio hit one as the New York Yankees beat New Orleans again, 14 to 6.

Philadelphia's Athletics defeated Birmingham, 8 to 4.

Biddle, Baxter Eager To Win

Victory Wednesday Night Will Bring Winner Bouts In Several Cities

Two days remain until Jack Biddle will try to knock out Russell Baxter with a dynamic left hook, and Russell Baxter will try to stop Jack Biddle with a right cross to the jaw.

They are docketed to meet in a return eight round bout at 9:30 Wednesday night in the Arena, and having been kept "warmed up" by recent fights, both are in tiptop condition for a gruelling "go".

Their first fight was as good as any pro fight held here. In fact, it was better, because Elkins Brothers' appearances resulted in the battles being finished before fans were seated properly.

Neither Biddle nor Baxter are what may be appropriately termed "spring chickens". However, their ring careers have fortified them with experience and each is cagey. Biddle's only hope of winning is to deliver a knockout. He hits with his left harder than Baxter does with his right. However, when they are compared in science, Baxter outshines Biddle by far.

Both weigh 160, the poundage agreed upon, and each is anxious to win because they have respective followings in Roanoke, Minneapolis, Detroit, Toledo, Grand Rapids and a few other cities.

Being returned a winner will give the victor an opportunity to noisily promoters of the fact and the loser will lose an opportunity of boxing in those towns because no sane promoter likes to book a loser.

They will "knock off" heavy training today, go through only muscle-loosening proclivities tomorrow, and rest all day Wednesday until summoned to enter the ring for combat.

Other Bouts Appear Good The semi-final will find a rough tough bout ahead of both Johnny Izzo of Mahoningtown and Sonny Marsh of Niles, the latter a Jimmy Dunn-managed boxer nowadays.

Izzo is unsentimental, but aggressive and a heavy puncher. Marsh is a busy-bee, tough and durable. This fight should, except for science, be equally as good as the main bout. They battle at 160.

Lionel LaGrew, another Dunn-tutored boxer, takes on Bobby Mason, Youngstown, at 147. Mason is said to be one of the better of the younger crop of Youngstown pros. LaGrew won and lost at Flaherty field last summer, and in one bout Chuck Gibbons went on a vacation, instead of battling LaGrew.

However, fans will see Chuck Gibbons in action Wednesday night. He has been a consistent winner, his last two fights having resulted in T-kayoes. He is billed to fight an exceptionally good ex-amateur, Charlie Hillson, Youngstown, at 145. Hillson was to have boxed here recently, but his brother took his place and lost.

The first fight will find Chuck Nulph, a seasoned ex-amateur, battling with LeRoy Wells of this city at 135.

The Jefferson A. C. will promote the bouts which are limited to 28 rounds.

Brain Tumor Fatal To Sutherland At 59; Death Of Steeler Coach Shocks Country

By JIMMY JORDAN (International News Service Staff Correspondent)

PITTSBURGH, April 12.—(INS)—The football world pays its last respects tomorrow to one of the toughest competitors of them all. Dr. John Bain (Jock) Sutherland, the Scottish immigrant boy who rose to fame as perhaps the greatest gridiron mentor since the immortal Kautle Rockne of Notre Dame, will be buried in simple ceremony from Pittsburgh's Cavalry Episcopal church.

The "canny Scot" died early Sunday following two four-hour operations. Four surgeons had battled vainly to save the life of the famous coach of the Pittsburgh Steelers of the National Football league.

The first of the two operations revealed he was suffering from a malignant brain tumor. During the second, one of the surgeons disclosed the condition of the 59-year-old gridiron genius was "hopeless."

He died a few hours later without regaining consciousness.

Sutherland, who took four teams to the Rose Bowl while coach at the University of Pittsburgh, was stricken suddenly soon after he started a scouting tour of colleges through the south last week.

He was found wandering in a dazed condition in a swamp near Bandana, Ky., last Wednesday. His condition first was diagnosed as possible amnesia, and later as nervous exhaustion, at a Cairo, Ill., hospital.

Condition Grave Seriousness of the condition became apparent after Sutherland was returned to Pittsburgh by special airplane Friday night. The first operation was decided upon Saturday by the four specialists.

The suddenness of his death shocked the entire sports world. Dozens of messages of condolence were received from persons high in the football world, both professional and collegiate.

Just where he will be buried had not been determined today, but it appeared definite his last resting place would be in Pittsburgh—his home since he immigrated to the United States as a boy of 18, and the scene of his greatest triumphs.

Active pallbearers at the funeral will be members of Sutherland's last football team—the 1947 Steelers whom he led to a tie for first place in the eastern division.

Bell To Be Present

Bert Bell, president of the National Football league, and co-owner of the Steelers whom Sutherland became coach in 1946, will be among the notables present.

Sutherland played football at Pitt from 1914 to 1917, was graduated in dentistry, and then entered the army in World War I. He never practiced dentistry, but did teach it for a time at Pitt.

He returned to his alma mater as grid coach in 1924 after an enviable record at Lafayette. He remained through the 1938 season, when he resigned during a "de-emphasis" wave. But in the meantime he had rolled up a record of 111 victories, 12 ties and 20 losses. All-America players were commonplace on his squads.

Softball Umps Meet Tuesday The City Softball Umpires will hold a regular meeting at the "Y" Starting at 8:00 p. m. on Tuesday night.

It is important that the following men attend this meeting to be ready for the league opening game on May 10. Jim Abraham, Gabby DeCaprio, Tony Claffio, Ray Campbell, Steve Shattie, Tom Palmer, Andy Benigas, Joe Howley, Ray Kelley, Rus Horchler, Fred Quinto, and Bird Riley.

Better Hunting, Fishing Promised PHILIPSBURG, Pa., April 12.—(INS)—New programs, which will assure better hunting, had been promised today to 200 sportsmen at the Annual State Center Game. Fish & Forestry Association dinner at Phillipsburg, Saturday night.

Dr. H. E. Kilgus, member of the State Game Commission recalled that for 25 years game land have been sadly neglected, but will be improved with the new program. Fish Commissioner L. S. Winner, of Lockhaven told the group that more, bigger and finer fish had been stocked in the state's streams this year than ever before to provide the best fishing the anglers have ever had, and added: "At least 70 per cent of all license revenues are being used for fish propagation and distribution."

A survey conducted the past year, he said, showed that only 20 per cent of the state's fishermen prefer artificial flies, while the remaining 80 per cent use worms for bait.

Umpires Will Meet Tuesday There will be a meeting of the Lawrence county umpires at the "Y" at 8 o'clock Tuesday evening for the purpose of selecting a man to assign the umpires this year. It was announced by President Albert Conti. All members are urged to attend.

Sportsmen To Meet Tuesday Members of the Lawrence County Sportsman's association will meet for the last time at eight o'clock, Tuesday night in the Courthouse. On the succeeding Tuesday night a social time will be held at the Ecclesian hall, the association's new meeting place.

The $230 payoff on Calumet's Citation in the Everglades Handicap at Hialeah this year was the lowest straight mutual return in the track's history.

Chet Gladechuk, New York Giants professional football star and former star center at Boston college, was appointed football coach at the University of Bridgeport, Conn.

Many City Fans, Ex-Pitt Players Remember Jock

Like football fans all over the United States, fans in New Castle were shocked over the week end at the sudden death of Dr. John Bain "Jock" Sutherland, coach of the Pittsburgh Steelers.

"Jock" was well known to many fans here but to a few he had been a friend for many years. One of these is Dr. William W. Horner, who was a member of the Pitt squad in his college days.

Said Dr. Horner today: "I have lost a long time friend in the death of Jock. When I went to the Pitt football camp at Windber, Pa., in the fall of 1917, as a freshman, Jock was a senior. He had been selected All-American guard in 1916 and was again selected in 1917."

"He always had time to pass on his knowledge to some of us on the Freshman squad. He was particularly kind to me and over the years we had kept up that friendship. Had he lived he would have been in New Castle within the near future when we were planning a Pitt football player he was a great man. He was inspiration to men younger than himself."

A number of New Castle men played under Dr. Sutherland, when he coached at Pitt. Among them was Alec Fox and Paul Reider, both of whom captained Pitt teams, the late Dr. Philip Sargent who was an outstanding end. Art Craft, Walt Baskowski, Chuck Fleming, and many others.

BOOSTER CLUB MEETS TONIGHT Will Air Banquet Plans, Check Sale Of Tickets; Big Dinner April 21

The New Castle Boosters will have another meeting at the Castleton Hotel this evening at 8 o'clock for the purpose of furthering the big testimonial banquet plans for April 21 at the Cathedral.

General Chairman Dick Rentz would like to have a report on the ticket sales tonight by the members. The tickets have been distributed in every section of the county. The banquet is open to the general public.

Seek National Speaker The matter of a nationally known speaker will no doubt be taken up at the meeting tonight. Several prominent persons are being lined up.

New Castle and Lawrence County should get back of this fine movement of welcome to the New Castle team in the Mid Atlantic league. The Boosters hope to have between 800 and 1,000 present at the dinner.

All baseball fans will want to attend the banquet and greet personally the players and managers who will be here this summer.

The banquet has been set for 7 o'clock so that all working men can attend.

SOFTBALL GAME TUESDAY There will be a softball game Tuesday evening at 6:45 o'clock at Mahoning Valley Grange, between the Wilmington Juvenile Grange and Mahoning Valley Grange, it was announced today.

SAINTS WILL WORKOUT Joe Howley, announced today a practice session for Tuesday evening at 5 o'clock of the St. Mary's team of the North County League. All players are to report.

Claude Harmon Masters Tourney Victor With 279

By JOHN R. HENRY (International News Service Staff Writer)

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 12.—(INS)—A hard-working family man, Claude Harmon, has won the 1948 Masters Golf championship by the widest margin ever recorded in the tournament.

The 31-year-old winged foot pro from Mamaroneck, N. Y., finished the 72-hole blue chips grind yesterday with a 279. His score tied the tournament record made by Ralph Guldahl, of Chicago, in 1939.

Carey Middlecott, the slim Memphis dentist, came home second with 284—five strokes behind Harmon, whose victory was the most conclusive since Jimmy DeMaret nosed out Lloyd Mangrum in 1940.

Harmon collected $2,500 as the top share of the $10,000 purse, and Middlecott got $1,500 for placing second.

A cut of $1,000 went to Chick Harbert, Northville, Mich., pro for showing up third with a 284.

Harmon may have bested the record low over the difficult 6800-yard National Golf Greensward, but he played it will all the dexterity of a stand-up-and-sock fighter.

Native of Savannah

A native of Savannah, the sun-bronzed New Yorker became the first native-born Georgian to haul down the title in his state's contribution to the national sports scene. He did it the hard way.

In his final 18-hole stretch, Harmon shot recklessly on the 13th hole to land in a pond. He waded in like a duck to blast out of the water, finally dropping the ball in par figures.

On two par-three holes—numbers 12 and 16—he had bogeys when a close-to-the-vest sort of fellow probably would have done better.

But, in retrospect this morning, Harmon declared:

"I wouldn't have played it any other way. I don't like to win anything playing, as you say, close to the vest."

The Masters was Harmon's first major tournament victory. It may be his last, because he doesn't plan to carry on a campaign like his fellow pros. He explained:

"I don't plan to play in any more tournaments than before. I like to be with my family. And another thing, I have to work."

Harmon's family consists of his wife, who accompanied him to the Masters meet, and three baby sons. The youngsters were left in the care of Claude's mother at Palm Beach, Fla., where he serves as winter-time pro at Seminole Country Club.

TALBERT TAKES

ANOTHER TROPHY

PITTSBURGH, April 12.—(INS)—Billy Talbert, of Wilmington, Del., national indoor amateur tennis champ, today had another trophy to add to his collection. Talbert won the Pittsburgh Golf Club's invitation tennis tournament Sunday by downing Irvin Dorfman, of New York, former eastern intercollegiate tennis champ, 6-1. Dorfman got some revenge, by teaming with Eddie McGrath to win the doubles title by defeating Talbert and Eddie Allou, 7-5, 9-7, 6-4.

NEW HEADQUARTERS SOUGHT BY WALTON LEAGUE OF AMERICA

CHICAGO, April 12.—(INS)—The Izaak Walton League of America, eminent national conservation body, started looking around today for new headquarters.

Ending their 26th annual convention in Chicago Saturday, the Waltonians chose Denver as site for their 1949 convention. Then they voted to have a committee survey "all factors involved in the proper location of national headquarters."

Chicago, the delegates and members pointed out in one of 15 resolutions passed at Saturday's wind-up session, poses the problem of rising costs and other factors handicapping the proper functioning of the league. The league was founded in Chicago in 1922.

Another resolution passed by the Waltonians called for establishment of a permanent national land and water policy for "preserving and wisely utilizing these basic resources."

Riding 316 winners last year, Jockey Johnny Longden approached the record of 324 set by Vincent Powers in the season of 1908.
